

SUE COSTELLO ANNOUNCES THE DATES FOR A RUN OF HER ONE WOMAN SHOW
at Right Turn in Boston.

BOSTON, MA - Sue Costello is pleased to announce that her one woman show "Minus 32 Million Words," which just finished a run at the Cherry Lane Theatre in NYC, will be performed for two nights only: Fri April 10th and Sat April 11th 8pm, at RIGHT TURN LIVE! located at 299 Broadway, Arlington MA.

This is the first time Sue will be performing the show Minus 32 Million Words in front of a hometown crowd. Born and raised in Dorchester MA, Sue started her career in the comedy clubs in Boston.

Costello delves deeper than the traditional stand up that made her a success with this one woman play. She tells the story of how she used her fists instead of her words to survive, until a turn of repetitive events forced Sue to have the courage to change. She read an article in the New York Times that said that poor kids hear 32 million less words than rich kids. This propelled her to find the words to tell her story, in order to move past the shame that enslaved her. She mixes her signature comedic style with her even more captivating dramatic ability. Through her irrepressible spirit, she shows us that her past does not have to become her future, and shares that hope and joy with rest of us.

PRAISE FROM PRIOR RUNS:

- "Sue Costello takes us on a wonderful journey filled with lots of laughter and love."
- Jerry Stiller and Anne Meara
- "I left this show seething with jealousy and completely dazzled by Sue Costello's brilliant and agonizingly funny portrait of a young girls nightmarish youth. Until I remembered she had to live through it. It's an incredible story of survival, and the performance of a lifetime. I can't wait to see it again."
- Kristen Johnston
- Molly Shannon says "Sue's show was amazing! It was hilarious and dark and brutally honest! Run don't walk to the theatre! She is a real talent!"
"Entertaining on every level!"
- Great characters, great writing and hilarious delivery! She's the next Whoopi, only not black!"
- Kevin Knealon

Sue Costello starred in, co-created and produced a self titled sitcom "Costello" for the FOX Network. She also appeared on NYPD Blue, Last Comic Standing and Tough Crowd with Colin Quinn. Costello has also honed her performing skills on the big screen in "Southie" with Donnie Walberg and directed by John Shea, and "Once in the Life" with Laurence Fishburne.

Tickets can be purchased at the Right Turn website: <http://www.right-turn.org/Store.asp>

For more information, call Ami Malia at 978-473-9749 or email her at: info@right-turn.org

For more information please contact:
Sue Costello Productions
(212) 388 7963
nancy@suecostello.com